11:25 AM – 12:25 PM  BAY AREA INTEGRATED SERVICES INITIATIVES: IMPLICATIONS FOR PRACTICE AND WORKFORCE EDUCATION AND TRAINING
  Three Bay Area organizations will present local integrated care initiatives focusing on key innovations, mental health, substance use disorder and health outcomes as well as implications for workforce development, education and training.

  Gale Bataille, MSW, Emeritus County Mental Health/Behavioral Health Director, CiMH Consultant on Integration (Facilitator)

  San Mateo County Behavioral Health and Recovery Services
  Juliana Bursten, MS, RN, PMHNP, Nurse Care Manager
  Carlos Rocha, CNA, Community Worker
  San Mateo County is a national site for the SAMHSA “Primary and Behavioral Health Care Integration” grant which seeks to improve the physical health status of people with serious mental illnesses (SMI) by coordinating and integrating primary care services into the community-based behavioral health setting.
La Clínica de La Raza
Leslie Preston, LCSW, Behavioral Health Director
La Clínica de La Raza provides primary care based integrated behavioral health services in Alameda, Contra Costa and Solano Counties. Primary care based behavioral health services are often less stigmatizing and more accessible to diverse populations that may be reluctant to seek specialty mental health and substance use disorder services.

Napa County Mental Health and Substance Use Disorder Services
Connie Moreno-Peraza, LCSW, Deputy Director/Administrator, Napa County SUD Administrator
Napa County’s mental health and substance use disorder services formed a partnership with Clinic Ole, which opened a satellite clinic on the main service campus. Napa developed this partnership through participating in the CIMH Care Integration Collaborative and will share essential functions of coordinated care—including challenges and successes in serving clients with substance use disorders.

12:25 PM – 1:15 PM  LUNCH (Included with Registration)

1:15 PM – 2:30 PM  IMPLICATIONS FOR GRADUATE-LEVEL EDUCATION OF INTEGRATING HEALTH-BEHAVIORAL HEALTH SYSTEMS OF CARE
A multi-disciplinary panel from graduate schools in the Bay Area will present research findings of schools’ readiness to prepare professionals to meet rapidly-changing workforce requirements and how some programs are beginning to train new professionals to work in integrated health-behavioral health settings.

The California Institute for Mental Health is a non-profit public interest corporation established for the purpose of promoting wellness and positive mental health and substance use disorder outcomes through improvements in California’s Health System. CiMH is dedicated to a vision of “a community and mental health services system which provides recovery and full social integration for persons with psychiatric disabilities; sustains and supports families and children; and promotes mental health wellness.”

The Greater Bay Area Mental Health & Education Workforce Collaborative (the Collaborative) represents many different counties, agencies, organizations, and institutions, all committed to expanding the Greater Bay Area’s public mental health workforce. The Collaborative is a project of the California Institute for Mental Health (CiMH) in partnership with the Greater Bay Area County Mental Health Directors, Alameda County Behavioral Health Care Services and the Office of Statewide Health Planning & Development (OSHPD). Funding is provided through the Mental Health Services Act (MHSA – Prop 63) and the Zellerbach Family Foundation.

Created in 1990, CalSWEC is a consortium of the state’s accredited social work graduate schools, all county departments of social service and local mental health departments, the California Department of Social Services (CDSS), the California Chapter of the National Association of Social Workers, the County Welfare Directors Association (CWDA), the California Mental Health Directors Association (CMHDA), and foundations. It is the nation’s largest coalition of its kind working together to provide professional education, student support, in-service training, and workforce evaluation research—all directed toward developing effective, culturally competent public service delivery to the people of California.

The California Mental Health Services Authority (CalMHSA) is an organization of county governments working to improve mental health outcomes for individuals, families and communities. Prevention and Early Intervention programs implemented by CalMHSA are funded by counties through the voter-approved Mental Health Services Act (Prop 63). Proposition 63 provides the funding and framework needed to expand mental health services to previously underserved populations and all of California’s diverse communities. The CCI-Integrated Behavioral Health Project was funded under the CalMHSA Stigma and Discrimination Reduction program to improve access to health, mental health, and substance use services across California.

The mission of the Zellerbach Family Foundation is to be a catalyst for constructive social change by initiating and investing in efforts that strengthen families and communities.
