Description

Providers usually are not often engaged in practice development and practice dissemination, so gaining new knowledge and skills is helpful for this work. This webinar will provide agencies with an overview of key considerations for disseminating a community-defined practice to other providers. We will cover topics including: training protocols, readiness, fit, quality assurance, and fidelity.

Learning Objectives

Participants will be able to:

- Identify which key considerations for disseminating a community-defined practice they need most help with.
- Identify quality concerns that are most important to them.
- Discuss why fidelity to the model can be a concern for practice developers.
